STEPHEN ALAN ANDERSON

"His smile is sweetened by his gravity."

Steve's quiet good nature permeates any group he is in. His contagious chuckle bolsters the spirit of all those around him.

Track 2.

DAVID ALAN ARMY

"After all that's said and done, I've surely had my share of fun."

David is the tall, quiet boy who will try just about anything once. No matter what the results, he's certainly had fun.

ALAN PAUL BIANCULLI

"Good humor is goodness and wisdom combined."

This lad has the very remarkable talent of always wearing a grin, whether he is serious or not. Alan's ingenious pranks will always be remembered by us as his trademark.

LESLIE RAYMOND BICKFORD

"If a man is worth knowing at all, he is worth knowing well."

Les is one of the quieter boys in our class. This shyness, however, has never prevented him from giving a helping hand to others.

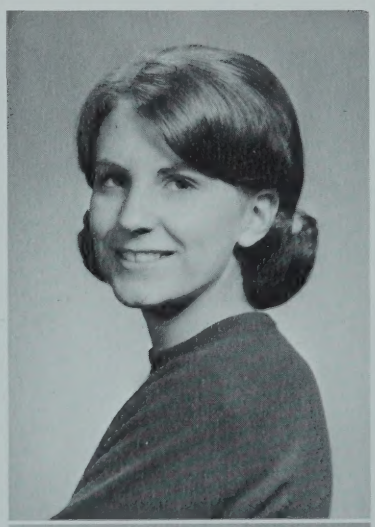
Football 1, 2, 3; Track 1, 2.

LINDA ELLEN BICKFORD

"Happiness is a new hockey stick."

As a great athlete, businesswoman, and scholar, Linda is a well-rounded individual. Whatever she does, she does thoroughly and well.

REFLECTOR 3, '4; Biology Club 2; Office Staff 3; Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Field Hockey 1, 2, 3, 4; Softball 1; AFTERMATH (Business Manager); Senior Honor Group.



PETER ALAN BORIA

"The road of life is long; thus we must take our time."

Pete can always be seen driving his uncle's Volkswagen bus and working hard on his cousin's construction crews. He is a likeable boy who can boast of many friends.

RAYMOND LEO BRODEUR

"Better a mischief, than an inconvenience."

Ray, carefree and living for today and not for tomorrow, can always be found thinking of some way to get into mischief.

MARTHA ELAINE BROWN

"My heart is like a singing bird."

Martha joined us at the beginning of our sophomore year. She quickly became a popular member of our class, as well as demonstrating her ability as a good student and her value as an important addition to the Band and the Glee Club.

REFLECTOR 4; Band 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 2, 3, 4; Basketball 2, 3; AFTERMATH (Associate Editor); Song Committee.

ARTHUR E. BRULE, JR.

"Politeness is to do and say the kindest thing in the kindest way."

Arthur is a polite and courteous lad who is always in the midst of a crowd. His relaxed manner and neat appearance make him easy to get along with.

Basketball 2.

DENNIS PETER CAMMUSO

"The great end of life is not knowledge but action."

A boy who can always find something to keep him busy, Dennis is certainly a hard worker. Through his own initiative, he will get far ahead in the years to come.

NANCY ANN CAMMUSO

"Full of fun and fancyfree, that's the way she'll always be."

A petite lass, Nancy makes up for her size with her personality. Her witty remarks, willingness to help others, and her cheerful disposition make her a welcome addition to any group.

Biology Club 2; REFLECTOR 4.

NANCY CAPISTRON

"Always quiet; always true."

Nancy is a quiet girl who can usually be found in the center of the crowd. Her happy-go-lucky spirit is never dampened.

Glee Club 1, 2; Biology Club 2.

KARIN GLADYS CARLSON

"A happy disposition is a gift of the gods."

As a cheerleader Karin has contributed much to rousing school spirit at football and basketball games. Her vivacity and good-naturedness have won her many friends and make her a wonderful person to know.

Student Council 1, 2; REFLECTOR 2, 3, 4; Library Staff 3; AFTERMATH; Cheerleader 1, 2, 3 (Captain 4); Photography Committee; Biology Club 2.

KATHLEEN MARY CARON

"There's always something to keep the twinkle in her eye."

Wherever Kathy is, there is sure to be fun. She has the happy-go-lucky disposition and sharp wit to keep things lively.

Library Staff 1, 2, 3, 4; Office Staff 1; Basketball 1; Field Hockey 1.

ROSE ANNE THERESA CATALDO

"A quiet exterior conceal-eth much."

Rose Anne's sweet ways and her reserved manner make her welcome in any group. She is known to respect the opinions of others.

Biology Club 2; Library Staff 4.

DIANA SOPHIA CHAMBERS

"Talk she can and talk she will; her tongue is seldom ever still."

Diana is a bubbling and talkative miss. She can usually be seen carrying on an all-important discussion with her friends.

Glee Club 2, 3; Biology Club 2; French Club 2; Senior Prom Committee.

ELAINE BARBARA CHAMBERS

"Always leave them laughing."

Boisterous and gay, "Pinky" is an asset to any crowd. She is also a leader in many sports activities. In an occasional quieter mood she has a charm just as appealing.

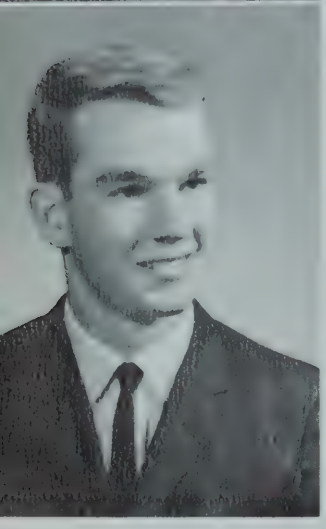
Class Treasurer 1; REFLECTOR 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 1, 2, 3; Biology Club 2, 3; Senior Prom Committee; Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Softball 1, 2, 4.

EILEEN LORRAINE CHAPMAN

"Be ever as merry as you can."

Eileen always finds something to be happy about. Her subtle wit and friendly ways will surely win her many more friends. Much success at Worcester State, Eileen!

REFLECTOR 1, 2, 3, 4; Field Hockey 1, 2, 3, 4; Biology Club 2; Office Staff 1; Junior Prom Committee; Senior Prom Committee; Basketball 1, 2, 3; Senior Honor Group.

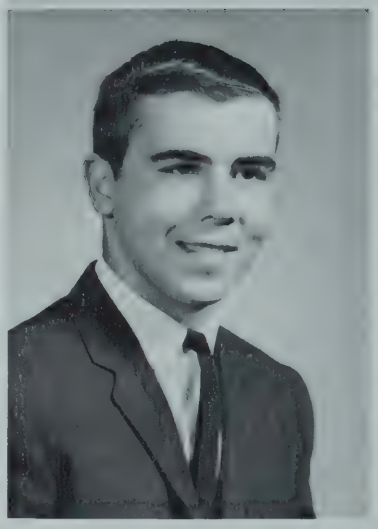


JOSEPH TERRANCE COBB

"Be a live wire and you won't get stepped on."

Terry is the kind of person who is never at a loss for words; he always has an amusing, although not always practical, suggestion for every situation. He is especially famous for his "friendly feud" with Bob Donovan.

Class President 1; Student Council 1; Junior Prom Committee; Senior Prom Committee; Football 1, 2, 3; Basketball 1, 2, 3; Baseball 2, 3, 4; Tie Committee.



JOSEPH VINCENT COLARUSSO

"Happy-go-lucky, cheerful and gay, a wonderful guy in every way."

Joe is a happy-go-lucky fellow with an ever-present smile on his face. We will always remember him and his 200 lbs. riding atop his little white Honda.

Football 1, 2, 3, 4.

CYNTHIA ANN FAYE COMBS

"As prone to mischief as able to perform it."

Witty and fun-loving in character, Cindy has made many "unbelievable" commotions in her classes. The atmosphere is never dull when she is around.

Glee Club 1, 2; Library Staff 2, 3, 4.

PHYLLIS JEAN MARIE COURNOYER

"With malice toward none, with charity for all."

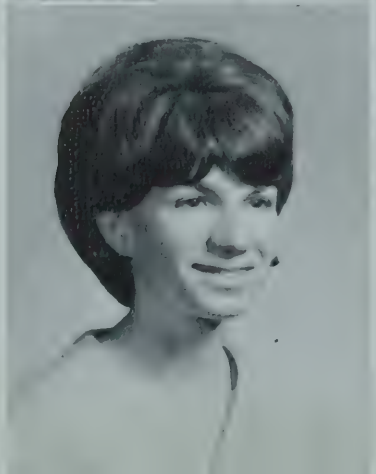
Phyllis is conscientious and always willing to do her share of a task. Her abilities to start laughter and to enjoy the humor of others are characteristic of her good naturedness.

Biology Club 2; Library Staff 4.

CAROL ANNE CREPEAU

"To friendship every burden's light."

Carol is sometimes quiet, always friendly. She is willing to help others whenever she can, a trait that will undoubtedly continue to gain the admiration and respect of all who know her.



NANCY ANN CRISTO

"Everyone must have felt that a cheerful friend is like a sunny day."

Nancy's pert ways and easy-going manners make her fun to have around. Her vivacious personality sparkles with wit and good humor.

Office Staff 4; AFTERMATH

GERALD LESTER CUDDEBACK

"Be not weary in well-doing."

Where help is needed, Jerry can be found. He takes part in many worthy campaigns and is an asset to any group.

RALPH EARL CUNNINGHAM

"Variety is the spice of life."

Whenever you need someone to head a drive, you can count on Ralph. His intelligent and on-the-spot answers in English will always be remembered by his classmates. He is certainly deserving of the title "Most Likely to Succeed."

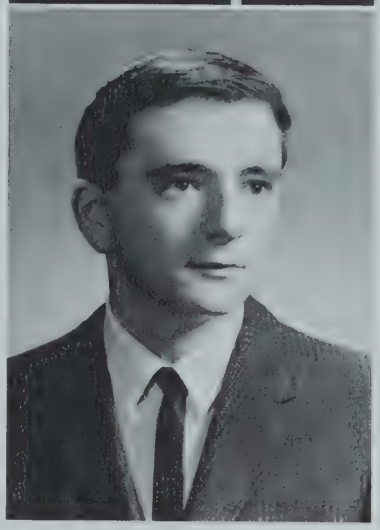
Dramatic Club (Treasurer 3, President 4); Thespian Society 3, 4; Track 1; "Most Likely to Succeed."

COLEEN ANN CUTHBERTSON

"True worth is like a river; the deeper it is, the less noise it makes."

Coleen is a quiet girl whose outward shyness does not adequately reflect her inner warmth. Most of us don't know her very well, but those who do know her think she's a wonderful person.

Library Staff 1.



JOHN ROBERT DALBEC

"I ought to have what I want, and what's more, I will."

John is one of the more conscientious boys in our class. However, he can always be counted on for a laugh or two. We will always remember his interesting side comments in our Spanish II class.

Biology Club 4.

MERRILL ANDREW DANA

"The small courtesies sweeten life."

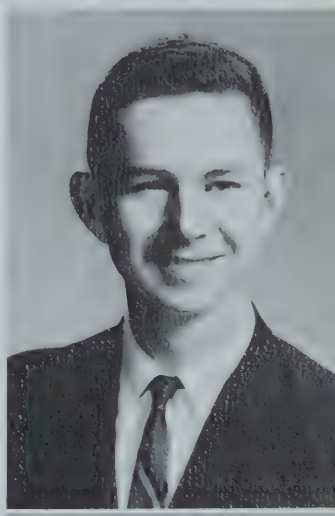
Merrill, or "Joe," is quiet, but he also has a sense of humor. His scout training is well illustrated by his helpfulness to others.

ROBERT FRANCIS DAPSIS

"Given to hospitality."

To many classmates, Bob seems to belong among the more reserved members of our class. He will always be remembered for his ability to do dips and pull-ups.

Biology Club (Vice-President 4); Football 1.



KAREN ELIZABETH DENNISON

"What sunshine is to flowers, smiles are to humanity."

Karen's beauty goes much deeper than the surface. She is one of the best-liked girls in our class, and for good reason; she is as good a friend as one could wish. She deserves all the wonderful things the world has to offer, and her warm personality will undoubtedly help her to obtain them.

REFLECTOR 2, 4; Library Staff 1, 2; Office Staff 4; Junior Prom Committee; Senior Prom Committee; Senior Honor Group.

PHYLLIS ANN DESLAURIER

"Like a glass of champagne, always bubbling over."

Always laughing and making others laugh, Phyllis is never quiet for long. Her wit and pleasing personality have gained her many friends during her years at MMHS.

Class Treasurer 3; REFLECTOR 4; Biology Club (Vice-President 2); Library Staff 3; Office Staff 4.

ELAINE MARIE DESOURDIS

"The gentle mind by gentle deeds is known."

She seldom talks, but her lovely artwork, which will long be remembered, speaks well enough for her.

Horace Mann Student 3, 4; National Honor Society 3, 4; REFLECTOR 3, 4; Junior Prom Committee; Senior Prom Committee; Science Club 3; Senior Honor Group; Graduation Speaker.

NOEL EMANUEL DESROSIERS

"While we live, let us enjoy life."

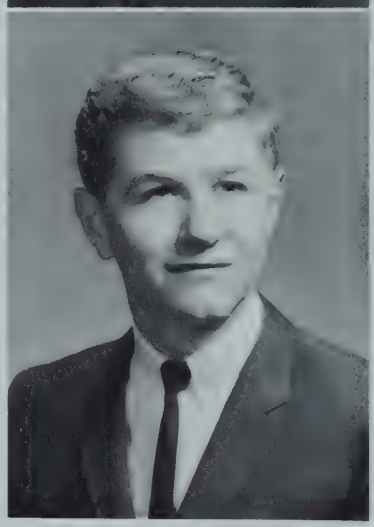
Noel is a happy-go-lucky person who mixes well with any group. To a person who is always "in the fun" will go the best of luck in the future.

ROBERT MICHAEL DONOVAN

"The mad scientist."

Bob can always be found where the fun is. If he isn't there, you'll probably find him battling with Terry Cobb in the corridors. His interesting tidbits in physics will be missed by all in the class.

Biology Club 2; Science Club 3; Football 1; Track (Manager 1).



TIMOTHY EDWARD DONOVAN

"Calmness is not always the attribute of innocence."

Timmy is one of our most ardent sports enthusiasts, always present to cheer the football and basketball teams on to victory. Most people think that he's shy, but those who know him well inform us that this is definitely not true.

Football 1, 2.

LINDA MARIE DUFRESNE

"A friendly heart to many friends."

Friendliness and kindness, in which Linda abounds, surely will be assets in her nursing career. We wish her much success in all her future endeavors.

Biology Club 2.

ROBERTA ANNE DUPLISEA

"Nothing is achieved before it is thoroughly attempted."

Her service has been appreciated as manager of the girls' basketball team, player on the field hockey team, and member of the library staff. Roberta will long be remembered for her discussions with Mr. White.

REFLECTOR 2, 3, 4; Biology Club 3; Library Staff 3, 4; Junior Prom Committee; Senior Prom Committee; Debating Club 1 (Treasurer 2); Dramatic Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Basketball (Manager 4); Field Hockey 1, 2, 3, 4.

SUZANNE MARIE DWINELL

"Be just as you are—'tis better so."

Suzanne, called Sue by most, is a very friendly person. She's almost always seen laughing, and her eyes twinkle with merriment when she's planning a mischievous prank.

REFLECTOR 4; Biology Club 2; Office Staff 1, 3; Debating Club 1, 2; Dramatic Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Thespian Society 4; Field Hockey 2, 3, 4.

RICHARD GEORGE ELLIS

"He may look serious, he may look shy, but he's full of it, twixt you and I."

Serious and shy? Look a little closer and you'll see a twinkle in his eye. Richard can get into just as much trouble by doing it quietly as anyone else can by doing it noisily.

Biology Club 2.

TIMOTHY ERICKSON

"A shy appearance but never doubt, he's a mischievous character, we've found out."

Timmy will always be remembered by Miss Donohue for the life he added to her Algebra II class. His talent on the basketball court will be sorely missed by next year's team.

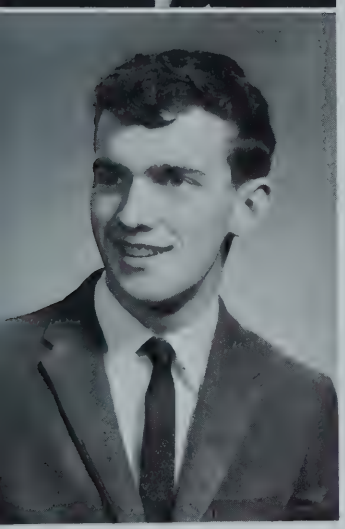
Football 1; Basketball 1, 2, 3, (Captain 4); Track 1, 2, 3, (Captain 4); Ring Committee.

LINDA ANN ETHIER

"Youth is the season for enjoyment."

Although a quiet girl, Linda can usually be seen where the action is. Her helpfulness and kindness to others cause her to be well liked.

Library Staff 3; Office Staff 4.



WILFRED JOSEPH EZOLD

"He's wise and he's merry for he hasn't a worry."

Will's pleasant and jolly manner has won him many friends at MMHS. This mechanically-minded boy's main interest is in automobiles.

ELLEN THERESA FARON

"Witty is her chatter which delights."

A bundle of energy, Ellen is known for her good humor and laughter. Her interest and concern for others are great assets and will help her to become a success in the years ahead.

Biology Club 2; Debating Club 1.

ELIZABETH AGNES FELICE

"There is nothing like fun, is there?"

Betty can often be seen around Room 26 in the morning before classes start, eagerly discussing some new development with the other girls. Her hard work and sincerity have won her many friends.

Biology Club 2; Ring Committee.

DAVID PAUL FOLEY

"I like fun, so why not have it?"

Friendliness is the keynote of this young man's personality. This quality will surely help him in the years to come.

LOIS ANNE FOURNIER

"A noble mind is free to all men."

Intelligent and not afraid to speak out, Lois has acquired many friends. Her ability in scholastic endeavors has proven that she rightfully deserves the title "Most Likely to Succeed!"

Horace Mann Student 3, 4; National Honor Society 3, 4; REFLECTOR 2 (Assistant Editor-in-Chief 3, Features Editor 4); Biology Club 2; Office Staff 3, 4; Junior Prom Ticket and Invitation Committee (Chairman); Debating Club 1 (Vice-President 2, President 3, 4); Science Club (Vice-President 3, President 4); Field Hockey 1; AFTERMATH (Assistant Editor); Photography Committee; Senior Honor Group; Graduation Speaker; "Most Likely to Succeed."

JOHN CHARLES FROST

"Work is always rewarded."

Jack is a quiet boy and can always be found hard at work at the "Big Discount" after school. His steady and determined attitude will surely be missed by next year's track team.

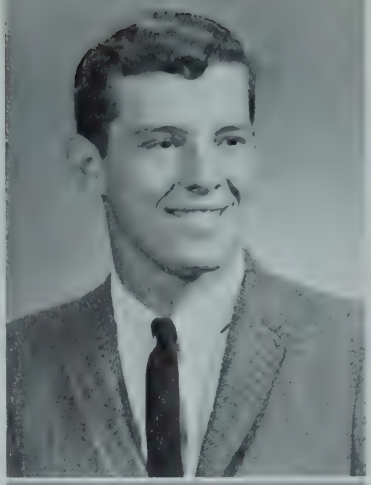
Football 2; Track 1, 2, 3.

JANE RUTH GAGLIARDI

"She is just what she is and what better report; a friend, hard-worker, and a very good sport."

Jane is especially notorious for her antics in chemistry lab. No matter how hard she tries to do things right, she always seems to break something. Many of us also think of her as the hard-working homeroom captain who always fulfilled her quotas.

Class Treasurer 2; National Honor Society 3, (Treasurer 4); REFLECTOR 2, 3, 4; Biology Club 3; Office Staff 3; Dramatic Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Thespian Society 2, 3, 4.



DANIEL JOHN GEORGE

"Humor is gravity concealed behind the jest."

Dan has an insatiable sense of humor and can always be found where the fun is. If he isn't there, he can usually be found in Mr. Roach's office before first period.

Football 1, 2, 3.

JANE CAROL GERVAIS

"Life isn't life at all without fun."

Busy and "on the go," Janie is always involved in something. She is a good conversationalist because she always has an opinion.

Biology Club 2; Dramatic Club 3, 4.

SUSAN JEAN GIBBONS

"A cheerful heart and a smiling face put sunshine in the darkest place."

Sue is always willing to lend a helping hand, as was proven by her work on both proms. Her wit and practical outlook are a combination which is bound to be a great asset in the years to come.

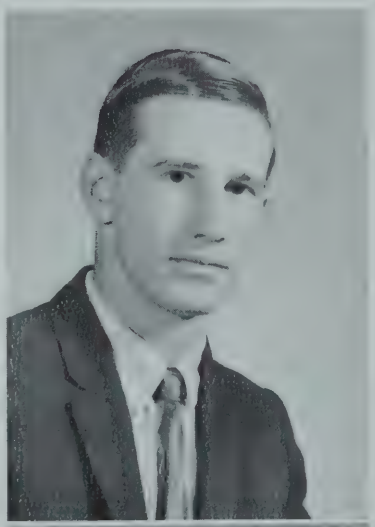
National Honor Society 3, 4; Office Staff 2, 4; Junior Prom Committee; Senior Prom Committee; Debating Club 1; Senior Honor Group.

DAVID ELLIS GIBBS

"A lover of sports, a lover of fun."

Dave is one of the best all-around athletes in our class. His good humor, sincerity, enthusiasm, and exceptional ability have combined to make him a very important member of the football, basketball, and baseball teams. It's no wonder his classmates voted him "Most Athletic!"

Junior Prom Committee; Senior Prom Committee; Football 1, 2, 3, 4; Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Baseball 1, 2, 3, 4; AFTERMATH (Assistant Editor); Motto Committee; "Most Athletic."



CONSTANCE MARIE GIBEAU

"Her ways are ways of pleasantness."

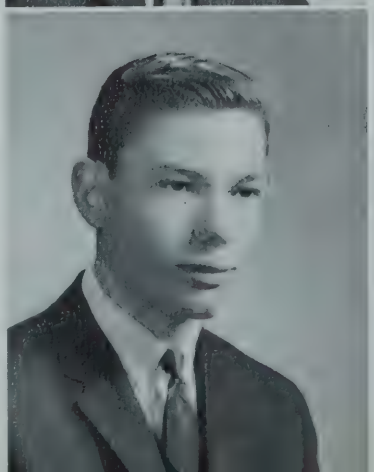
Connie's friendly nature and willingness to help those in need are only two of her appealing characteristics. We wish her much happiness in her future life with that special someone.

Biology Club 2; Softball 1.

GLENN GREGORY GILBERT

"Anxiety is the rust of life."

Without a worry in the world, Glenn brings light and smiles to any occasion. He will always be remembered for his attentiveness (?) in his P.D. class.



SHEILA ANN GILBERT

"Quiet and sweet, friendly and neat."

Sheila, one of the more talkative girls in our class, can always be seen wearing a smile. Her clerical aptitudes will be assets in her future secretarial career.

Glee Club 3; Office Staff 1; Senior Honor Group.

IRVIN HERMAN GORANSON, JR.

"A likeable lad with likeable ways."

Here is a boy with the energetic personality so often associated with red hair. He is always busy and spends many of his spare hours pursuing an interest in popular music.

PATRICIA ANN GOVER

"A constant friend is a thing rare and hard to find."

Pat is a cute and quiet girl who can often be seen with her many friends. We are sure her personality and charm will bring her much success.

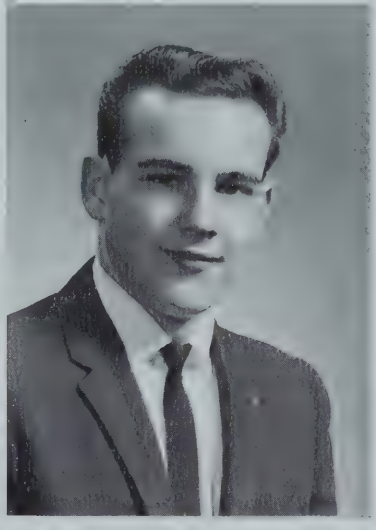
REFLECTOR 1; Biology Club 1; Ring Committee; Dramatic Club 1.

NANCY VICTORIA GRABER

"She's pretty to walk with, witty to talk with, and pleasant to think of."

Although a quiet girl, Nancy has the charm and personality to endear herself to all. She can always be found where there is fun and excitement.

Student Council 3; Library Staff 2, 3; Junior Prom Committee; Senior Prom Committee; AFTERMATH; Senior Honor Group.



JOHN ROBERT GRAF

"Happiness is a way of life."

Jack will always be remembered for his friendliness and his numerous cars. He never hesitates in helping others and can always be counted on for a good joke when needed.

Biology Club 2; French Club 1, 2.

ANNE MARIE GRAVELINE

"Good humor is always a success."

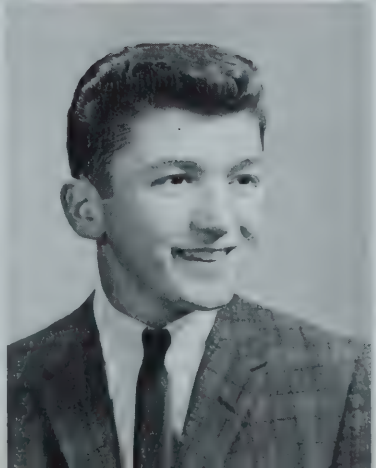
Beneath Anne's quiet appearance is a ready, willing, and able sense of humor that is always in the mood for a little fun. You can usually find her with a group of people having a good time.

Glee Club 2, 3; Biology Club 2; Library Staff 1, 3, 4; Junior Prom Committee; Senior Prom Committee; Dramatic Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Senior Honor Group.

DAVID ALLEN GUILFOYLE

"A good friend never offends."

Having a congenial personality, David can often be seen with his many friends. His neatness makes him a stand-out in any group.



PATRICK EDWARD GUILFOYLE

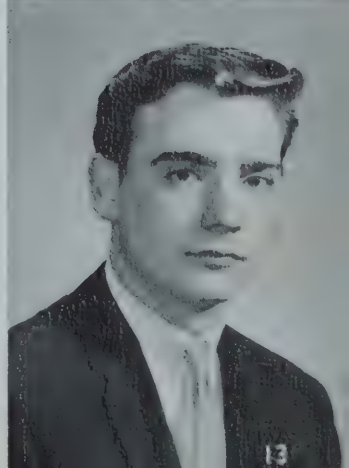
"Good humor is the heart of the soul."

When you think of a carefree, happy-go-lucky person, you think of Pat. Casualness and a sense of humor combine to make him a likeable fellow.

WILLIAM ARTHUR GUSTAFSON

"A step at a time, one goes a long way."

Bill is an easy-going fellow with no cares in the world. His ability to appear unhurried and worry-free constantly amazes all his friends.



DONNA WOOD HAMBLETT

"Neatness is a woman's duty."

Donna is always impeccably dressed. Most people think that she is very quiet, but those who know her better realize that her quietness carries the strength of her convictions. Her many diversified interests include sewing, studying antiques, and art. Her hard work on our proms is greatly appreciated.

National Honor Society 3, 4; REFLECTOR 2, 3, 4; Biology Club 2; Junior Prom Committee; Senior Prom Committee; Debating Club (Treasurer 1); AFTERMATH (Associate Editor); Office Staff 4; Senior Honor Group.

CHARLOTTE ANN HAMILTON

"It's nice to be natural, when you're naturally nice."

Charlotte's modesty, wit, ability to get along with others, and her sincerity have made her truly deserving of the title "Most Popular." Her aptitude for leadership and her willingness to serve have been extremely valuable to our class.

Class Secretary 1; Class Vice-President 2, 3, 4; National Honor Society 3 (Secretary 4); Student Council 3, 4; REFLECTOR 2, 3, 4; Junior Prom Committee; Senior Prom Committee; Senior Honor Group; "Most Popular."

WILLIAM JOSEPH HAMILTON

"A jest breaks no bones."

Billy is popular and well liked by all. Because he is a comedian, there is never a dull moment when he is around.

Football 1; Basketball 3.

RONALD RICHARD HANSON

"Worry kills more people than bullets—so why worry?"

Ron is one of the more active boys in our class. His tales of his interesting Friday night adventures will long be remembered by all.

Basketball 1, 2.

LINDA RUTH HICKORY

"A sense of humor will reduce your troubles to their proper proportions."

One of our more athletic girls, Linda has devoted much time and energy to softball, having earned her letter in her sophomore year. Her musical ability has complemented her many endeavors.

Basketball 1; Softball 2, 3 (Captain 4).

ANNE ELIZABETH HICKS

"Pretty, petite and sweet."

Anne joined us at the beginning of our senior year. Her sweetness and jovial personality quickly made her a very welcome addition.

Dramatic Club 4.

THOMAS EDWARD HOWARD

"To have a friend, you must be one."

Through the years, Tom has been the recipient of many a good-natured joke. However, he has amazingly taken these in stride and never disliked any of the pranksters. We know that he will be successful in his future life.

Band 1, 2, 3, 4; REFLECTOR 3, 4; Debating Club 2.

JANICE MARIE INGMAN

"Without music life would be a mistake."

MMHS's musical programs and basketball games will certainly never be the same without Janice. As an expert pianist she accompanied the Glee Club in all its programs, and her proficiency as an organist opened many of our basketball games with a stirring rendition of the national anthem.

Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Biology Club 2, 3; Softball 2, 3, 4; Song Committee.

KATHY PATRICIA JONES

"Softly shall I tread as I go my way."

Kathy's pleasant ways have earned her many friends during her years at MMHS. Her sunny disposition and friendly interest in others will help her to attain success in her future life.

REFLECTOR 3, 4; Dramatic Club (Secretary 3), 4; Photography Committee (Chairman); Motto Committee.

MARIE CLAIRE JORDAN

"Little rebel with a twinkle in her eye."

Marie is one of the wittiest girls in the class, who has not a worry in the world. But when a problem arises, it is always a major catastrophe.

LYNN CHARLOTTE KALLSTROM

"Style is the dress of thought."

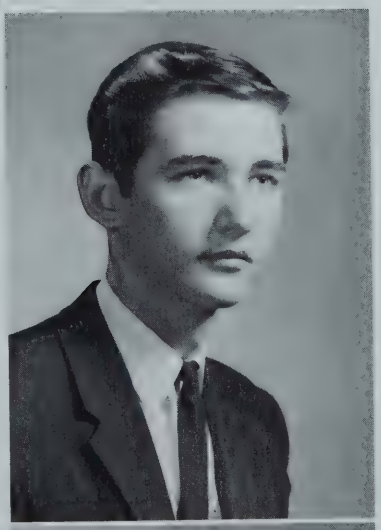
Always dressed neatly and stylishly, Lynn is one of the more attractive girls in the Senior Class. Her ways are delicate and charming.

Biology Club 2.

WILLIAM ANTHONY KARPOWICZ

"I never think of the future; it comes soon enough."

Billy is one of the more carefree boys in our Senior Class. He lives for today and doesn't worry about tomorrow. We are sure his future will lead him to happiness.

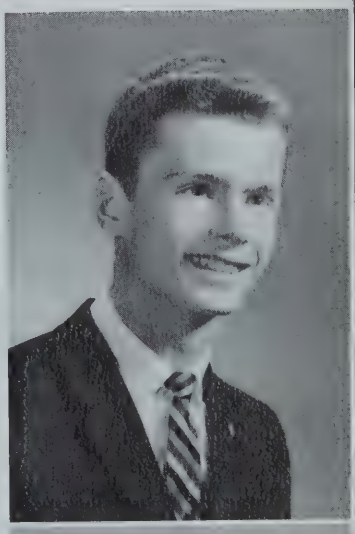


PAUL DONALD KASPUTIS

"A man every inch and he's six feet tall."

Paul is one of the tallest boys in our class. His friendliness and knowledge of sports will always be remembered. He is a valuable friend to have.

Football 1, 2; Basketball 1.



DAVID FRANK KENDRICK

"I've shut the door on yesterday and thrown away the key."

David is a patient person who enjoys music and people. Others, in turn, enjoy him for his friendliness and charm. He shows the willingness and reliability of a true Scout!

Band 1; Biology Club 2; Track 1, 2, 3; Senior Honor Group.

LINDA ANN LABELLE

"The days that make us happy make us wise."

Linda is a girl with a friendly personality and a casual manner. She is always busy and seems to possess inexhaustible energy.

REFLECTOR 3, 4; Glee Club 1, 3, 4; Biology Club 2; Library Staff 2, 3, 4; Office Staff 1; Dramatic Club 4.

LINDA MARIE LAGUE

"To be important is nice, but to be nice is more important."

Linda is both an accomplished actress and a twirler for the band. We have all enjoyed her portrayals in the school plays, and we will surely remember her leading the band onto the field between halves at the football games.

Majorette 1, 2, (Head Majorette 3, 4); Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Biology Club 2; Library Staff 1, 2; Office Staff 3, 4; Dramatic Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Thespian Society 4.

SUSAN LAINO

"Ever happy, ever gay, ever something sweet to say."

One of Sue's outstanding qualities is her friendliness. She always has a cheerful "Hello" for anyone she may meet in the corridors. Kindness and thoughtfulness are typical of her personality.

Glee Club 1, 2.

MARY JEANNE LAVOIE

"Humor is of a genial quality."

Mary's bright smile and contagious laughter liven every class she's in. She's a lot of fun to be with, as many of us already know.

Biology Club 2.

MARLENE JOYCE LEGASSEY

"The best of me is diligence."

Her industry has added much to the efficiency of the library staff. Her help has been greatly appreciated.

Library Staff 1, 2, 3, 4; Office Staff 4; Debating Club 2 (Secretary 3).

RUTH IDA LINDBERG

"A winning way, a pleasing smile, dressed so neat and quite in style."

Ruth's sincerity is just one of the many nice things about her. When she undertakes a job, we may rest assured that it will be done capably and efficiently. Her warm personality has won her many friends, and her pleasant appearance has earned her the title of "Best Dressed."

Student Council 1, 2; REFLECTOR 1, 2, 3, 4; Library Staff 2, 4; Senior Prom Committee; Dramatic Club 2; Field Hockey 2, 3; "Best Dressed"; Softball (Assistant Manager 3).

RUSSELL FRANCIS LINDBLAD

"Keep smiling; it makes people wonder what you're really up to."

Russ can always be found with a smile on his face and a friendly greeting for everyone. His wit and charm made every class enjoyable. His leadership in football was appreciated by all.

National Honor Society 3 (Vice-President 4); REFLECTOR 4; Football 1, 2, 3 (Co-Captain 4); Baseball 1, 2, 3, 4; Senior Honor Group; Class Day Speaker.

SHIRLEY RUTH LOOMS

"How far that little candle throws its beams."

Shirley combines her studious nature with her athletic ability to make a many-faceted individual. Her ability and determination will surely lead her to the life she desires.

Horace Mann Student 3, 4; National Honor Society 3, 4; REFLECTOR 2, 3, 4; Biology Club 3; Library Staff 4; Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Field Hockey 1, 2, 3, 4; Senior Honor Group; Graduation Speaker.

BARBARA IRENE LOUIS

"Happiness lies in this girl's eyes."

A smiling, red-haired lass, Barb has many friends. She may seem shy, but her classmates know that she really isn't. Her ability to get along well with others is only one of her finer characteristics.

REFLECTOR 4; Office Staff 1.

WILLIAM MARK MacLEAN

"A little nonsense now and then is relished by the wisest men."

Things are never dull if Bill is around. He more than holds his own in any conversation, and he can always be depended upon to provide a humorous observation or two.

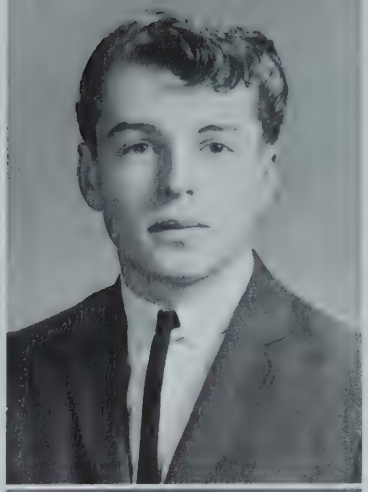
Biology Club 3; Football 1, 3; Track 1, 4.

CRAIG LEONARD MAGNUSON

"Good-natured, full of fun, mixes well with everyone."

Craig is one of the many mischievous boys in our class. He can always be found where the fun is. We wish him luck in his future education.

Biology Club 2; Track 1, 2, 3.



MICHAEL MANNERS

"Mischief is king and I'm its slave."

Mike's fine sense of humor and frantic antics keep all his classmates laughing. His desire to make others laugh is always successful.

DONNA MARIE MARQUIS

"Kindness is the sunshine in which virtue grows."

A quiet and friendly miss, she can often be seen talking with her many friends. Her kindness towards others will insure success for her in the future.

Glee Club 1.

BARBARA THERESE MAY

"The reward of a thing well done, is to have done it."

Barb is popular, energetic, and sincere. When she devotes herself to a cause, she does it whole-heartedly and never rests until the task is successfully completed. She loves mischief, and she certainly manages to find her share of it.

REFLECTOR 2, 3, 4; Library Staff 2, 4; Basketball 1, 2, 3 (Co-Captain 4); Field Hockey 2, 3 (Co-Captain 4); Softball 3, 4.

BARRY RUSSELL MAYNES

"I take life as it comes."

Barry is one of the more carefree boys in our class. You'll find him wherever the fun and noise are. Miss Shea will surely miss his sense of humor in her physics class.

Class President 2, 3; Student Council 2, 3; REFLECTOR 1, 2, 3, 4; Band 1; Debating Club 1, 2; Football 2, 3, 4; Track 1, 2, 3, (Co-Captain 4) Senior Honor Group; Motto Committee.

NANCY THERESA McARDLE

"When in doubt, do the friendliest thing."

Nancy may be small but her heart is very large. Her kindness and friendliness have been witnessed by many of the members of our class.

Glee Club 2, 3.

ROBERT RUSSELL McCLINTOCK

"Humor is the true democracy."

Bob will be remembered for his easy-going manner and love of a good time. His quick laugh and ready wit have earned him many friends.

CHERYL ANN McLAUGHLIN

"Silence is the virtue of the wise."

Cheryl's opinions usually show great insight, because she doesn't speak unless she has something to say. Everyone who knows her thinks she is wonderful.

REFLECTOR 3, 4; Debating Club 2, 3; Senior Honor Group.

CAROL ANN MILLETTE

"It's a friendly heart that has many friends."

One of the quieter members of our class, Carol has been kind and considerate to all. Her pleasing personality will insure her happiness in the future.

Glee Club 1; Library Staff 1; Office Staff 2.

BRIAN THOMAS MOOREY

"Deep waters hold many noble thoughts."

Brian is a good ball player who hides his talents with shyness. He is very courteous and always neat.

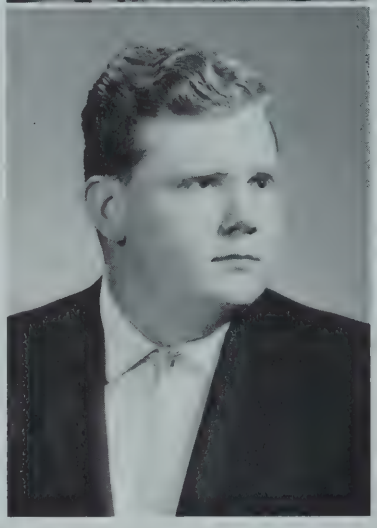
Class Captain 4; National Honor Society 3, 4; Senior Prom Ticket and Invitation Committee; Football 1; Tie Committee; Basketball 1, 2; Baseball 1, 2, 3, 4; Senior Honor Group; Class Day Speaker.

LOIS ELIZABETH MURPHY

"Sweet are the thoughts."

Lois will always be remembered for her neat appearance. She always has a pleasing smile and a personality to match. We wish her great success as she ventures into the secretarial world.

Student Council 2, (Secretary 3, Treasurer 4); REFLECTOR 2, 3, 4; Biology Club (Treasurer 3); Library Staff 2; Office Staff 4; Junior Prom Committee; Song Committee.



WALTER JOHN MURPHY

"Dependability attracts the highest trust."

"Murph" is always ready, willing, and able to lend a hand to get a task done. The many odd jobs he completed in Room 12 are deeply appreciated.

PATRICIA MARGARET MURRAY

"Silence is golden."

Pat is a quiet girl, but don't let that fool you. She is one of the most friendly, sparkling girls in our class. She always has a smile for everyone. May her future bring her as much happiness as she has brought to MMHS.

Dramatic Club 1, 4.

KATHLEEN MAE NALESKI

"The silent person is often worth listening to."

Kathy is a shy and quiet girl who offends no one. Her friendliness and willingness to help out where needed have made her a well-liked student.

Office Staff 4.

DONNA LEE NARX

"Happiness personified."

Donna's bubbly giggle lets everyone know when she's around, Her friendly manner and witty chatter have made her popular with her classmates.

REFLECTOR 2; Biology Club (Secretary 2); Dramatic Club (Secretary 2, Vice-President 4).

SANDRA LEE OJERHOLM

"As likeable as she is lookable."

Sandy is both pretty and popular. As a cheerleader she did much to boost the morale of our football and basketball teams, and, during the hours when she wasn't cheering, her laughter livened many an informal discussion.

Class Secretary 3; Student Council (Treasurer 3); Office Staff 2; Senior Prom Ticket and Invitation Committee; Cheerleader 1, 2, 3, (Co-Captain 4).

THOMAS MICHAEL O'LEARY

"There are three days in the week I don't worry about—yesterday, today, and tomorrow."

Tom spends most of his time worrying about whether or not he will pass bookkeeping or trying to get out of aftersessions.

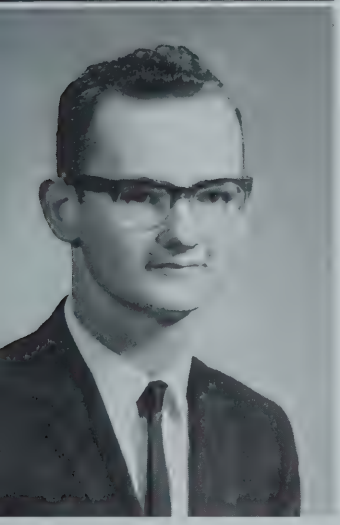
Class Captain 1, 2; Junior Prom Committee; Football 1, 2; Basketball 1, 2; Track 1, 2.

GAIL JANET PARATH

"A good thing to have up your sleeve is a funny bone."

Gail is a vivacious and talkative girl whose sports ability earned her the title "Most Athletic." Her leadership and humor have been vital to the life of our class.

National Honor Society 3, 4; Office Staff 2, 3, 4; Junior Prom Committee; Senior Prom Committee; Basketball 2, 3, (Co-Captain 4); Field Hockey 1, 2, 3, 4; Softball 1, 2, 3, 4; AFTERMATH Senior Honor Group; "Most Athletic Girl."



EDWARD RODNEY PERRY

"They are rich who have true friends."

Ed can usually be found riding around with the "Honda group." A likeable fellow who can always be counted on for a favor, he is a true friend and a valuable one to have.

Football 1, 2; Track 1.

ROGER ROLAND PICARD

"A little work, a little play."

Roger certainly has his share of both. He is active in school affairs and enjoys them to the utmost. He is popular, witty, and an all-around character. All the girls are constantly teasing him and, although he never admits it, we secretly think that he enjoys every minute of it. It surprised nobody when he was voted "Most Valuable to the Class."

Class Treasurer 4; Class Captain 2; Student Council (President 4); Football 1, 2, 3, 4; Basketball 1, 2; Baseball 1, 2, 3, (Captain 4); Senior Honor Group; Class Day Speaker; "Most Valuable".

LINDA MARY PIERCE

"What a thing friendship is, world without end."

Linda is always smiling about something. Her jovial and kind nature makes her a friend to everyone.

REFLECTOR 4; Library Staff 1, 2, 3.

SALLY EMMA QUIST

"To thine own self be true."

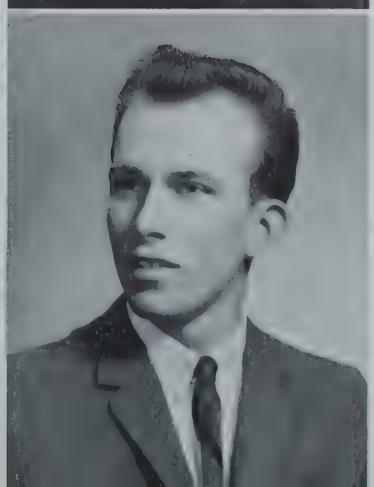
Intelligent and quick-witted, Sally has proven her creativity by her literary achievements. Although quiet and shy, she surprises others with her humorous comments.

REFLECTOR 1, 2, (Features Editor 3, Literary Editor 4); Library Staff 1, 2, 4; Senior Prom Committee; Dramatic Club 1, 3, 4; Senior Honor Group; Class Day Speaker.

RONALD LEWIS RIXHAM

"Men of few words are the best men."

One of the quieter boys in the senior class, Ronnie is certainly a good worker. He can often be seen working on his car.



M. ROSALIE ROBITAILLE

"Give the world the best you have and the best will come back to you."

Rosalie is one of the most amazing members of our class. Brains, beauty, and charm all wrapped up into one irresistible package, there seems to be nothing that she can't do. Prom queen, outstanding student, and everyone's friend, she richly deserves the title of "Most Valuable to the Class."

Class Secretary 2, 4; Horace Mann Student 3, 4; National Honor Society 3, 4; Student Council 3, 4; REFLECTOR (Production Manager 4); AFTERMATH (Editor-in-Chief); D.A.R. Representative; Senior Honor Group; Class Day Speaker; "Most Valuable."

CAROL MARIE ANN ROY

"Endowed with the power of laughter."

Carefree, friendly, and jolly best describe Carol. Her mischievous grin and twinkling eyes are familiar to many.

KENDALL ALGER RUSSELL

"Small men too may conquer."

Although "Gomer" is one of the smaller members of our class, his personal qualities double his size. He is never idle and is always transporting his friends from place to place.

Football 1, 2; Track 1.

SUSAN JANE SADOWSKI

"All the world's a stage."

As one of our very talented seniors, Sue has added success to our school plays. Her additions to the glee club and cheering squad will long be remembered and also her witty remarks in class.

Horace Mann Student 3; National Honor Society 3, 4; REFLECTOR 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 2, 3, 4; Biology Club 2; Office Staff 1; Senior Prom Committee; Dramatic Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Thespian Society 2, 3, 4; Softball 1, 2, 3, 4; Ring Committee (Chairman); Senior Honor Group; Class Day Speaker; Cheerleader 3, 4; Photography Committee.

CARL RONALD SCHMIDT

"Boys will be boys."

Carl will always be remembered and appreciated for his contributions to our band. Many amused onlookers have witnessed his constant antics in class.

Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Football 1.

WAYNE RICHARD SCLAR

"The smile that won't come off."

Wayne is one of our more fun-loving boys. He is always ready to greet any occasion with a smile. His determination and love of competition in sports have been unequaled during his years at MMHS. It is no wonder that he was voted the "Most Popular" boy in our Senior Class.

Class President 4; Class Vice-President 1; Student Council 4; Junior Prom Committee; Football 1, 2, 3; Baseball 1, 2, 3; "Most Popular."

DAVID ALAN SMITH

"Teachers and classrooms are his only objections to education."

Dave always has a cause that he feels needs his particular attention. His convictions always show originality and purpose.

MICHELE JACQUELYN STRANGER

"Two sparkling eyes and a ready smile combine to make life worthwhile."

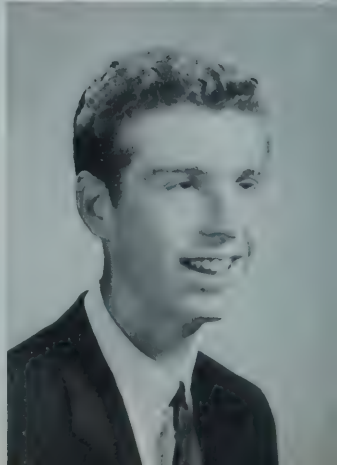
A stylish miss, she made a regal queen at the Senior Prom. Michele will be remembered for her red Fairlane and her fashion sense.

REFLECTOR 1, 2, 3, 4; Biology Club 2; Library Staff 1, 2, 3, 4; Junior Prom Committee; Senior Prom Committee; Dramatic Club 1, 2, 3; Senior Honor Group; Cheerleader 3, 4.

DANIEL MICHAEL SULLIVAN

"A little fun makes the world go 'round."

Danny possesses the power to make those around him laugh. His quips and general good humor make him a welcome addition to any group.



JANE MARY TAFT

"Heart on her lips and soul within her eyes."

Jane is a charming lass who possesses a lively sense of humor. Her thoughtfulness and consideration of others will help her to attain success in the future.

Dramatic Club 4.

JAMES RICHARD THOMAS

"Good nature becomes any man."

A shy boy on the outside—but just scratch the surface and you'll find the fun-filled, carefree manner for which Jim is known by all. Our "Best Dressed" Senior boy has been a pleasing addition to the class.

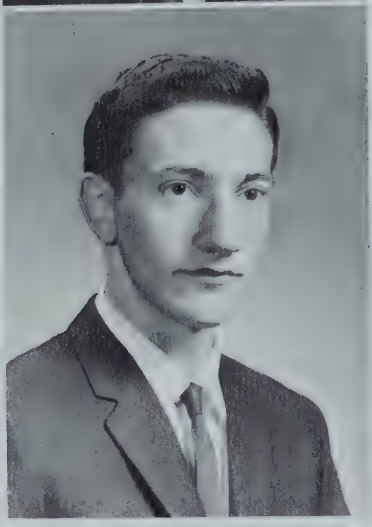
"Best Dressed"; Tie Committee.

SUSAN THERESA THOMAS

"She's very knowing."

Being good natured, Susan never resents those who tease her about her height. One of the more intelligent girls in our class, she never hesitates to help others.

Horace Mann Student 3, 4; Dramatic Club 4; Senior Honor Group; Graduation Speaker.



JAMES ALBERT TRICARICO

"Happiness is hitting that high note."

Jim is a rather quiet boy, yet he does not lack a sense of humor. His faithfulness is shown by his steady attendance at every band rehearsal.

Band 1, 2, 3, 4.

ANNE MARIE TROTTIER

"Give her a basketball and she's off to glory."

Anne is one of our enthusiastic basketball players. Her vim and vigor on the court have aided our team to many a victory.

REFLECTOR 4; Library Staff 2; Office Staff 4; Basketball 3, 4.

KATHERINE MARY TURONIS

"Not whether she won or lost, but how she played the game."

Kathy seems to live with the idea that a soft answer turns away anger. Never has she been angry or impatient with any of her classmates. In addition, she is a fine athlete who always plays her best game whether her team is winning or losing.

Biology Club 2; Office Staff 1, 4; Junior Prom Committee; Senior Prom Committee; Dramatic Club 2; Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Softball 1, 2, 3, 4.

CHERYL PAMELA TURTURRO

"Though I am always in haste, I am never in a hurry."

Cheryl, a witty and outgoing personality, can express her candid opinions with skill, stemming partly from her experience in the Debating Club. This talent, combined with her interest in history, should assist her in preparing to become a teacher.

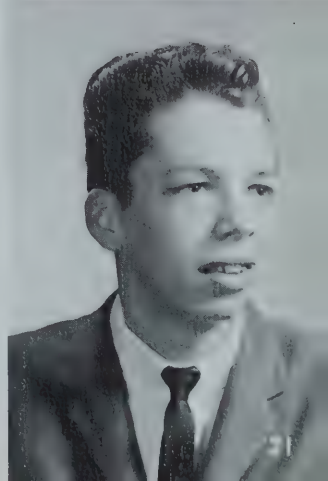
REFLECTOR 2, 3, 4; Debating Club 1, 2 (Vice-President 3).

TIMOTHY LEE VANDERLINDEN

"What should a man do but be merry."

Tim can always be found touring the countryside on his white Honda. We will long remember his witty comments in second period P.D. class.

Basketball 2; Baseball 1.



LEONARD MICHAEL VASSAR

"Well-timed silence hath more eloquence than speech."

Leonard is a tall, quiet boy with a lively sense of humor. His silence denotes a casualness that is admired by many.

SUSAN MAE VIGEANT

"When your heart is young, life is full of vitality."

Susan has a dual personality. She can be quiet and serious or lively and quick-witted. We wish her the best of luck in the future.

REFLECTOR 4; Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Office Staff 2.

JOHN DAVID WARREN

"Trouble sits but lightly on his shoulders."

Casual and without a care describe John perfectly. He hasn't a care in the world, and perhaps it's better so.

ERIC THERON WHITE

"Wit and wisdom are born with the man."

With the extraordinary ability to be both comical and serious, Eric is liked by many. His activities, which vary from writer for the REFLECTOR to a great addition to the football team, also show his versatility.

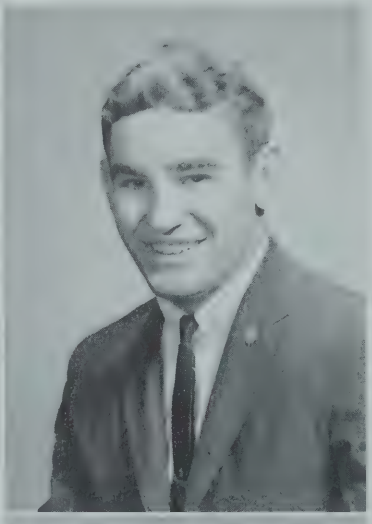
REFLECTOR 4; Dramatic Club 4; Football 2, 3, 4; Track 1, 2, 3, 4; Ring Committee; Class Day Speaker; "Wittiest."

ERNEST STEVEN WHITE

"If I rest, I rust."

Ernie is one of the most unusual boys in our class. Known as "Grub" to his buddies, he will always be remembered for his all-weather exploits on his Honda and his unique P.D. answers.

National Honor Society 3 (President 4); Football 1, 2, 3 (Co-Captain 4); Baseball 1, 2, 3, 4.



LINDA ANN WHITE

"Such a girl you seldom meet; good looks and wit make her complete."

Lin can always be found in the midst of a crowd. Her pleasant smile, shining personality, and fine sense of humor have graced the halls of MMHS. Such a fine person will surely find success and happiness in all future endeavors.

Student Council (Secretary 4); Library Staff 3; Junior Prom Committee; Senior Prom Committee.

RICHARD PAUL WHITE

"If studies interfere with a good time, why study?"

The most carefree of all the I.A. boys, Richard seems not to have a care in the world. His casualness and easy-going manner are the chief marks of his personality.

LINDA MARIE WHITERELL

"It is better to be small and shine, than to be tall and cast a shadow."

Linda is a well dressed miss with a lively personality. Her thoughtfulness and consideration, together with her helpfulness, have won her many friends. We wish her the best of luck in the future.

Band 1, 2, 3; Glee Club 1, 2, 3; Office Staff 1, 2; Dramatic Club 1; Senior Honor Group.

PATRICIA MARIE WILKINSON

"Laugh and the world laughs with you."

Pat is always good for a joke! Wherever she may be, the surroundings are full of joy and laughter. Pat's wit, charm, and bubbling personality combine to make a wonderful friend to all. She can usually be found waltzing the corridors with a smile from ear to ear!

Library Staff 2, 3, 4; Basketball 1; Photography Committee (Secretary).

WILLIAM CLIFFORD WILKINSON

"Laugh and be merry, for tomorrow you may have to work."

Billy will always be remembered for his famous "Honda" escapades. He is a fine addition to any crowd because of his amusing antics.

Biology Club 2; Football 2; Track 1.

CHRISTINE JANET WOLL

"The sky is no higher than your own reach."

Chris is especially known for her ability to successfully defend her opinions. Her outgoing personality, individuality, and her desire for knowledge will surely be assets at Bryn Mawr.

Horace Mann Student 3, 4; REFLECTOR 1, 2 (Literary Editor 3, Editor-in-Chief 4); Library Staff 1, 2, 3, 4; Debating Club 1; Dramatic Club 3, 4; Senior Honor Group.

CHARLENE RITA WOODWARD

"Promises may get friends, but it is performance that must nurse and keep them."

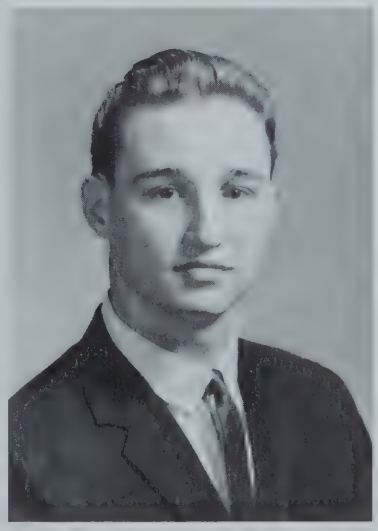
Where art work is required, so is Charlene. Her work on both proms and also on our REFLECTOR issues will long be remembered. She is a rather quiet girl, but her happy smile and friendliness brighten many a day at MMHS.

REFLECTOR 1, 2 (Art Editor 3, 4); Library Staff 2, 3, 4; Junior Prom Committee; Senior Prom Committee.

JERRY JOHN YOUNG

"He isn't lazy, he's merely conserving his energy."

Carefree and casual, Jerry is a happy-go-lucky individual. He is well liked by many, and we feel sure he will find much happiness in the years to come.



SUSAN ZIMATRAVICH

"Nothing is impossible to a willing heart."

Susan is one of the more helpful members of our class. Her willingness to assist others will be an asset in the years to come.

ADDRESS OF WELCOME

Parents, Members of the Faculty,

Fellow Students and Friends:

As vice-president of the Senior Class of 1966, I am very pleased to welcome all of you to our Class Day exercises.

My classmates and I have all been looking forward to this day for quite some time, for today marks the end of our high school years and the beginning of our lives as adults.

As we look back over our four years at Millbury High, we realize how grateful and appreciative we should be to all who have helped us to successfully complete this very important stage in our lives.

We thank the members of the faculty for their patience and guidance, and we especially thank our principal, Mr. Shaw, for keeping close watch over us and helping us whenever any problems arose.

We are, and always will be, thankful to our parents for providing the love and understanding that have certainly helped in preparing us to face whatever may lie ahead.

Our class motto states that "KNOWLEDGE IS POWER". We deeply thank Our Lord, God, for giving us the ability to obtain the knowledge that will one day help us to meaningfully use the power which we possess.

My classmates and I sincerely hope that you will enjoy our Class Day exercises.

CHARLOTTE HAMILTON

MOTTO: KNOWLEDGE IS POWER

COLORS: BLUE AND WHITE

FLOWER: CARNATION

SONG

These halls of learning we leave today
Rememb'ring cherished smiles
And as we proudly go on our way
We can face the endless miles, for

Today as we stand united here
We take this sacred hour
To thank all those who have been so near
Teaching knowledge and its power, for

Anywhere we wander,
Anywhere we roam,
Our memories of Millbury High will live on
Though we be far from home.
Anywhere we wander,
Anywhere we roam.

CLASS HISTORY

As we, the members of the class of 1966, look back over our high school years, we recall a very pleasant and unforgettable experience. For a moment let us look back over these four years and relive some of the more notable moments.

September 5, 1962—On this memorable day, we began our four fun and study-filled years at Millbury Memorial High School. Soon after becoming accustomed to our daily routine, we chose our class officers. Those elected were Terry Cobb, president; Wayne Sclar, vice-president; Charlotte Hamilton, secretary; Elaine Chambers, treasurer; and Thomas O'Leary, class captain. Terry Cobb and Ruth Lindberg represented us on the Student Council.

Many of the members of our class joined the various clubs and organizations, which were open to them, such as: the Dramatic Club, Debating Club, and Glee Club. Many became active members of the REFLECTOR Staff and some musically inclined students joined the band.

Then came the fall sports season. Twenty-one of our boys joined the football team. Spurred on by Karin Carlson and Sandra Ojerholm, our freshman cheerleaders, they proved themselves to be very capable on the athletic field.

The girls' field hockey team was supported by Linda Bickford, Kathy Caron, Eileen Chapman, Roberta Duplisea, Shirley Looms, and Gail Parath.

Our annual school play entitled Mister Co-Ed introduced to us three freshman actresses: Susan Sadowski, Linda Lague, and Linda Whiterell.

As winter came upon us, so did basketball season. Terry Cobb, Timothy Erickson, David Gibbs, Ronald Hanson, Paul Kasputis, Brian Moorey, Thomas O'Leary, and Roger Picard became members of the boys' team. Nine girls joined the girls' team and did their best to aid the squad.

After having recovered from our first experience with mid-years, we answered the call to summer sports. Our baseball team was supported by David Gibbs, Russell Lindblad, Brian Moorey, Roger Picard, Wayne Sclar, Timothy Vanderlinden, and Ernest White, while Linda Bickford, Elaine Chambers, Constance Gibeau, Gail Parath, Susan Sadowski, and Katherine Turonis went out for softball.

At last, summer vacation arrived and we received a well deserved rest, although we knew that the greater part of our high school years lay ahead.

Upon returning to school to begin our sophomore year, we immediately elected our class officers. Those chosen were Barry Maynes, president; Charlotte Hamilton, vice-president; M. Rosalie Robitaille, secretary; Jane Gagliardi, treasurer; and Roger Picard, class captain. Our representatives on the Student Council were Karin Carlson, Ruth Lindberg, Barry Maynes, and Lois Murphy.

The French Club, Biology Club, Library Staff, and Office Staff received the support of many of the members of our class.

When the fall sport season arrived, Leslie Bickford, Terry Cobb, Joseph Colarusso, Timothy Donovan, John Frost, Daniel George, David Gibbs, along with Russell Lindblad, Barry Maynes, Thomas O'Leary, Edward Perry, Roger Picard, Kendall Russell, Wayne Sclar, Eric White, Ernest White, and William Wilkinson joined the football team. The field hockey team sported eight of our sophomore girls.

In our school play No More Homework Jane Gagliardi, Marie Jordan, and Susan Sadowski, displayed their theatrical talents.

A total of seventeen members of our class supported both the girls' and boys' basketball teams.

Elizabeth Felice, Charlotte Hamilton, Barry Maynes, Sally Quist, Michele Stranger, and Katherine Turonis were awarded Certificates of Acceptance by the National High School Poetry Press. Their original poems were published in the Annual Anthology of High School Poetry.

Both the baseball and softball teams were supported by our class. Stephen Anderson, Leslie Bickford, Timothy Erickson, John Frost, David Kendrick, Craig Magnuson, Barry Maynes, Thomas O'Leary, and Eric White were featured on the track team.

On May 12, 1964 the Worcester Branch of the National League of Pen Women honored Jane

Gagliardi and Lois Fournier in the category of fiction.

A special tribute to the late President, John F. Kennedy, entitled Young America Mourns contains poems written by nine Millbury Memorial High School sophomores. This memento, published by the National Poetry Press, contains approximately 300 poems selected for publication from 23,000 entries. Karin Carlson, Phyllis Deslaurier, Ellen Faron, Sheila Gilbert, Gail Parath, Marie Jordan, Russell Lindblad, Shirley Looms, and Donna Narx submitted poems deemed worthy of publication.

Summer vacation was now once again upon us and we all went our various ways, knowing we would be reunited in September.

Soon after school reopened, we were able to show off our class rings which had been chosen by our ring committee, consisting of Timothy Erickson, Elizabeth Felice, Patricia Gover, Susan Sadowski, and Eric White.

Those chosen to be our class officers were Barry Maynes, president; Charlotte Hamilton, vice-president; Sandra Ojerholm, secretary; Phyllis Deslaurier, treasurer; and Thomas O'Leary, class captain. Junior representatives on the Student Council were Nancy Graber, Charlotte Hamilton, Barry Maynes, Lois Murphy, Sandra Ojerholm, and M. Rosalie Robitaille.

Again our class did its share in supporting the school's various clubs and organizations.

Both the football and field hockey teams were avidly supported by the members of our class.

We were very pleased to learn that Elaine DeSourdis, Lois Fournier, Shirley Looms, M. Rosalie Robitaille, Susan Sadowski, Susan Thomas, and Christine Woll had, by attaining an average of 90 percent or better for two consecutive years, qualified as Horace Mann Students.

The boys' basketball team was supported by Terry Cobb, Timothy Erickson, David Gibbs, and William Hamilton while Linda Bickford, Martha Brown, Elaine Chambers, Eileen Chapman, Shirley Looms, Barbara May, Gail Parath, Anne Trottier, and Katherine Turonis were on the girls' team.

At our annual Science Fair, David Kendrick was awarded second place for his project "Wind Tunnel." He participated in the Worcester County Fair held at Worcester Polytechnic Institute on April 8-10, 1965. An honorable mention went to Thomas Howard for "Cosmic Rays and Atomic Energy."

Linda Hickory, Janice Ingman, Ruth Lindberg, Barbara May, Gail Parath, Susan Sadowski, and Katherine Turonis aided the softball team greatly while Terry Cobb, David Gibbs, Russell Lindblad, Brian Moorey, Roger Picard, Wayne Sclar, and Ernest White were on the baseball team. The track team was also well supported.

Jane Gagliardi, Susan Sadowski, Anne Graveline, Suzanne Dwinell, Ralph Cunningham, and Linda Lague were a part of the cast for our school play Our Hearts Were Young and Gay.

Now it was time for our first prom. The theme was "Moonlight and Roses." On the evening of June 11, 1965, M. Rosalie Robitaille was chosen queen of the prom.

At the annual induction ceremonies for the National Honor Society, Elaine DeSourdis, Lois Fournier, Jane Gagliardi, Susan Gibbons, Donna Hamblett, Charlotte Hamilton, Russell Lindblad, Shirley Looms, Brian Moorey, Gail Parath, M. Rosalie Robitaille, Susan Sadowski, and Ernest White were recipients of this great honor.

Once again we left school for a well-earned summer vacation.

When we returned to school in September, we realized we had finally become seniors. We soon became aware, though, that this title carried with it much work and study.

Our class officers, consisting of Wayne Sclar, president; Charlotte Hamilton, vice-president; M. Rosalie Robitaille, secretary; Roger Picard, treasurer; and Brian Moorey, class captain, were immediately elected. Charlotte Hamilton, Lois Murphy, Roger Picard, M. Rosalie Robitaille, Wayne Sclar, and Linda White were the seniors on the Student Council.

Again our class made a fine showing on the athletic field with Joseph Colarusso, David Gibbs, Russell Lindblad, Barry Maynes, Roger Picard, Eric White, and Ernest White on the football team while eight senior girls were on the field hockey team.

Our senior cheerleaders now included Karin Carlson, Sandra Ojerholm, Susan Sadowski, and Michele Stranger.

Nancy Graber was named our Outstanding Business Student; M. Rosalie Robitaille was chosen as our D.A.R. good citizen; and Roger Picard, serving as Lieutenant Governor, was our representative for Student Government Day in Boston.

Soon we began thinking of our forthcoming yearbook and our AFTERMATH Staff was chosen consisting of M. Rosalie Robitaille, editor-in-chief; Lois Fournier and David Gibbs, assistant editors; and Martha Brown and Donna Hamblett, associate editors.

The Advertising Committee was composed of Linda Bickford, the business manager, Karin Carlson, Nancy Cristo, Nancy Graber, and Gail Parath.

This year our Instrumental Music Department was very pleased to be able to send two of our students, Martha Brown and Thomas Howard, to perform in the All State Band. These two accomplished musicians performed in the Central District Festival in Shrewsbury on November 5, 1965.

Elaine DeSourdis, Lois Fournier, Shirley Looms, M. Rosalie Robitaille, Susan Thomas, and Christine Woll were recipients of the Horace Mann Award twice in succession. This is certainly an exceptional feat.

Lois Fournier gained distinction for herself and the school when she qualified as a semi-finalist in the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. Sally Quist, Ralph Cunningham, and Christine Woll were cited for outstanding performance in the same test and each received a formal "Letter of Commendation" from the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

We now were preparing with enthusiasm for our Senior Prom. The theme was "Rendezvous with Radiance." When prom night arrived, Michele Stranger was chosen as queen.

Once again the Seniors were active in school organizations, particularly the REFLECTOR with Christine Woll, editor-in-chief; Sally Quist, literary editor; Lois Fournier, features editor; Michele Stranger and Charlene Woodward, art editors; and Karin Carlson, business manager.

Timothy Erickson and David Gibbs were the only seniors on the boys' basketball squad, but Linda Bickford, Elaine Chambers, Roberta Duplisea, Shirley Looms, Barbara May, Gail Parath, Anne Trottier, and Katherine Turonis contributed to the girls' team.

At the annual science fair Merrill Dana, Craig Magnuson, Timothy Donovan, Richard Ellis, and David Kendrick received honorable mentions.

Our gifted Seniors, Jane Gagliardi, Ralph Cunningham, Susan Sadowski, Linda Lague, Eric White, and Suzanne Dwinell contributed to the success of our school play The Whole Town's Talking.

As Class Day and graduation drew closer, our excitement mounted increasingly. Mr. Shaw announced the Senior Honor Students: Susan Thomas, Lois Fournier, Elaine DeSourdis, Shirley Looms, Christine Woll, M. Rosalie Robitaille, Charlotte Hamilton, Susan Sadowski, Sheila Gilbert, Cheryl McLaughlin, Brian Moorey, Linda Bickford, Nancy Graber, Michele Stranger, Sally Quist, Susan Gibbons, David Kendrick, Barry Maynes, Gail Parath, Russell Lindblad, Anne Graveline, Donna Hamblett, Eileen Chapman, Karen Dennison, Roger Picard, and Linda Whiterell.

The four top scholars, Susan Thomas, Lois Fournier, Elaine DeSourdis, and Shirley Looms were appointed graduation speakers.

Once again the spring athletic season arrived and a total of 17 Seniors participated in baseball, softball, and track.

Now it was time to prepare for the all-important graduation activities. Those chosen as Class Day speakers were Susan Sadowski and Russell Lindblad, Class Gifts; Brian Moorey, Statistics; Roger Picard, Prophecy; Sally Quist, Omissions and Corrections; Eric White, Last Will and Testament; and M. Rosalie Robitaille, Class History.

Members of the Motto Committee were David Gibbs, Kathy Jones, and Barry Maynes; of the Song Committee, Martha Brown, Janice Ingman, and Lois Murphy; and of the Tie Committee, Brian Moorey, James Thomas, and Terry Cobb.

Graduation Day, June 16, 1966—This is the end of our high school years. Although many of us look sadly upon the completion of this adventure, we greatly anticipate the new and more varied experiences that lie ahead of us.

M. ROSALIE ROBITAILLE

CLASS PROPHECY

On May 26, 1986, I made my first return trip to Millbury since I graduated from high school in 1966. I planned to see many places and people in one day because I had to return to work in Los Angeles the next morning.

My trip began with an enjoyable surprise when I boarded the jet in Los Angeles and found that the pilot and co-pilot were old classmates of mine, Arthur Brule and Stephen Anderson. I was informed by them that another classmate of ours was on the plane. Barbara May was one of the stewardesses.

While flying across the country, Miss May kept me right up to date on what all my old schoolmates were doing: She told me what places I should visit and where I would find most of my friends. After our conversation I began to read the newspaper. Many familiar names were in the headlines. In the sports section, Joseph Cobb's name was written all over the paper for his brilliant pitching for the Boston Red Sox. Timothy Erickson made the headlines for running the mile race under three and a half minutes. I was surprised to see that Daniel Sullivan had edged Alan Bianculli for the Professional Bowlers' Association "Player of the Year" Award. Also in the sports section, I read that Richard Ellis had won the World Golf Tournament at the Pleasant Valley Country Club Golf Course in Sutton, Massachusetts. He had beaten some of the greatest golfers in the world, who included Leonard Vassar, John Dalbec, and Craig Magnuson.

As I looked further in the newspaper, I found the political page. I was reminded that many of the country's leading politicians had graduated in my class at Millbury. The President of the United States was Barry Maynes. He seems to fit the position well because of his wonderful knowledge and modesty. He had named some of his former classmates to high offices. William MacLean was his Vice President, David Kendrick was the Secretary of State, and the former Senator of Massachusetts, Merrill Dana, was President Maynes' Secretary of the Treasury. Some of the senators from my graduating class included John Frost, John Graf, and William Gustafson.

The fashion section of the newspaper was full of people who were in the Class of 1966. Many of the clothes were designed by Ronald Hanson, one of the best designers in the business. Most of his clothes were modeled by Lynn Kallstrom, Kathy Jones, and Phyllis Deslaurier. They also modeled some of the famous bathing suits fashioned by the team of Robert Donovan and James Thomas. On another page, there were pictures of hair styles. Karen Dennison and Donna Marquis wore the latest hair styles created by the well known hairdresser, Jane Gervais. I was very happy to see that so many of the students from our graduating class had become successful in the fashion world.

When I checked my watch, the time was nine o'clock. This meant in another fifteen minutes I would be landing in the new modern Windle Airport in West Millbury. To pass the time, I read the television section of the paper. I noticed that the new play entitled "Would You Believe?" was starting on Broadway. It starred the fabulous Susan Sadowski and very talented Jane Gagliardi. The men who played opposite these exciting actresses were Ralph Cunningham and Gerald Cuddeback. Appearing at Las Vegas was the unbelievably funny Eric White. He was considered to be the greatest comedian in show business. I noticed that the television stars, Thomas Howard and Carl Schmidt, were making their debut in the new mystery show entitled, "I'm Scared." On television that evening, Thomas O'Leary was substituting for Ed Sullivan. He was having a rock and roll band called "The Grubs" on his show. The group consisted of five talented musicians and singers whose names were Irvin Goranson, Paul Kasputis, Walter Murphy, James Tricarico, and Robert Dapsis. These five young men had been playing together for over a week—this proved they were talented.

After I concluded my reading, I was told that we were about to land in Millbury. I was very eager to see many of my old classmates. When I landed, I took a taxi to the center of Millbury. After checking in the Center Hotel, which was owned by David Foley, I talked to Dave and he let me borrow his car for the day.

I decided to drive through the center and see the many new business establishments. I saw Lois Murphy's Beauty Parlor. I stopped by to talk to Lois who told me she had Marlene Legassey, Mary Lavoie, and Carol Millette working for her. She said that these three people helped her become very prosperous. I then went to the grocery store called Mountaintop. Here I found that the manager was Kendall Russell. He said that other managers of Mountaintop stores were Wilfred Ezold, Sheila Gilbert, and Jerry Young. These were some of the successful businessmen of our class.

I then took a trip over to Wilkinson and Perry's Honda Shop, which was owned and operated by William Wilkinson and Edward Perry. They said that they ordered their Hondas from David Smith, an executive of Honda Sales in Japan.

After visiting these old friends, I decided I would look for a place to eat lunch. I chose the Three C Restaurant. It was operated by the fine cooks, Nancy Capistron, Nancy Cammuso, and Rose Anne Cataldo. On my way to the restaurant, I passed the Peter Boria Body Shop. Peter had the excellent mechanics, Dennis Cammusso, Noel DesRosiers, and Michael Manners working for him. I also passed the Last National Bank. I found out that the president of the bank was Timothy Donovan. Mr. Donovan had Nancy Graber as vice president and Barbara Louis, Linda LaBelle, and Charlene Woodward as the three tellers. This bank had only been robbed sixteen times in the past three months. That was due to the great protection by the bank guards, Richard White and Raymond Brodeur, who had learned everything they knew from the town police chief, Joseph Colarusso. "Big Joe" had the aid of his fellow policemen, Leslie Bickford and Timothy Vanderlinden.

After lunch, I was on my way to visit the "old" high school. I was told that the school was run by people who were in my graduating class. I first talked to the principal, Brian Moorey, and his secretary, Anne Hicks. When I went upstairs I met Miss Ellen Faron, the senior English teacher, and Miss Elizabeth Felice, the Chemistry teacher. Miss Kathy Naleski was now the new Problems of Democracy teacher. When I went downstairs, I approached the magic room three. I was surprised to see Miss Lois Fournier, the new math teacher. I stopped by the library and saw the librarian, Miss Patricia Murray. She was talking to the guidance counselors, Miss Anne Graveline and Miss Susan Gibbons. I then rushed down to the gymnasium and saw the boys' coaches, Russell Lindblad and David Gibbs. They had had a very successful season in baseball, winning the state championship. The girls' coaches, by the way, were Linda Hickory and Gail Parath.

At about one o'clock, the students were sent down to the auditorium to watch astronauts, Daniel George and Glenn Gilbert, land on the moon. The news commentator, Ernest White, gave a very detailed description of the voyage. The launching of the astronauts interrupted Susan Vigeant's Variety Show. Susan had the singing group known as the "Mac Trucks" on her show. The members of this group were Ruth Lindberg, Sandra Ojerholm, Donna Narx, Linda White, and Karin Carlson. They became famous, not because of good singing, but because of terrible singing. They were considered a joke to music.

After the launching I left the school and, on my way back to the hotel, I saw Eileen Chapman, Linda Bickford, and Martha Brown. Miss Chapman told me she was an aid to the woman Governor of Massachusetts, Cynthia Combs. Miss Bickford said she was a chemist at the University of Massachusetts and Miss Brown said she was teaching French at a Worcester high school. I also saw Diane Chambers and her sister Elaine. They were waitresses at the Copra Banana, a restaurant outside of town which was owned by their friends, Carol Crepeau and Phyllis Cournoyer.

After returning David's car to the hotel, I took a taxi which was driven by Coleen Cuthbertson to Windle Airport. Coleen said that in Millbury it was not unusual to see lady taxi drivers. Her friends, Nancy Cristo, Linda Ethier, and Susan Zimatravich, were all taxi drivers.

When I arrived at the airport, I bought my return ticket from a familiar lady, Patricia Wilkinson. She told me her alternate, Linda Whiterell, was relieving her at six o'clock. Both Miss Wilkinson and Miss Whiterell are employed by Dwinell and Turonis Airlines. This airline is owned by the rich widows, Suzanne Dwinell and Katherine Turonis.

While sitting in the airport lounge, I met Patricia Gover and Elaine DeSourdis, who were on their way to England to visit the Queen of England, Michele Stranger. They also planned to visit the famous English actresses, Linda Lague, Janice Ingman, and Linda Dufresne. I also met Susan Thomas and M. Rosalie Robitaille, who were going to Germany where they were foreign ambassadors of the President of Germany, Wayne Sclar. Susan and Rosalie told me that Charlotte Hamilton, Constance Gibeau, and Cheryl Turturro were all married to millionaires.

While walking to my plane, I saw Nancy McArdle and Carol Roy, who were on their way to a skiing vacation in Switzerland. Traveling to Europe with them were Marie Jordan and Jane Taft, who were visiting Paris to do some fashion modeling. Boarding a chartered plane to the French Riviera was Sally Quist and Christine Woll. I then met Susan Laino and Cheryl McLaughlin, who were going to Japan where they owned a large toy company.

When I boarded my plane, I listened to radio station WOW. The disc jockey, Linda Pierce, was interviewing Roberta Duplisea, the famous composer of musical plays. She wrote most of her material for Donna Hamblett and Kathleen Caron, famous Broadway stars.

As my plane left Windle Airport for Los Angeles, I stared out the window and saw the old familiar sights of Millbury. My visit brought back many memories of my schoolmates and schooldays which, I am certain, none of us will ever forget.

CLASS GIFTS

To Stephen Anderson,
One of our quiet boys,
We give this firecracker
So he'll make some noise.

To Alan Bianculli
With his expression, "Yes, Ma'am!"
We give this butter knife
To help him out of a jam.

To Leslie Bickford,
A great hunter,
We give this blank bullet
So he may not start a junta.

To Linda Bickford,
A college-bound lass,
We give this letter "M"
To show off at U. Mass.

To Peter Boria,
A hot rod fan,
We give this
Shiny oil can.

To Raymond Brodeur,
Who pumps gas,
We give this car
In hope he leaves fast.

To Martha Brown,
Who plays the flute,
We give some fresh air
To help her toot.

To Arthur Brule,
Who appreciates a good joke,
We give this egg
Without any yolk.

To Dennis Cammuso,
Who's got a big Chevy,
We give this jack
Because it's so heavy.

To Nancy Cammuso,
Who is so small,
We give some pills
So she'll grow tall.

To Nancy Capistron,
Who's very petite,
We give this fan
To beat the heat.

To Diana Chambers,
Who comes from Park Hill,
We give this green pickle,
All flavored with dill.

To Elaine Chambers,
Who plays softball as catcher,
We give this big beachball—
She'll catch that, I "betcha"!

To Eileen Chapman,
Who works in a store,
We give this delectable
Apple core.

To Joseph Cobb,
Our baseball star,
We give this dead ball
So he won't hit far.

To Joseph Colarusso,
His anger he had to stow,
We give this title,
"Benevolent Joe".

To Cynthia Combs,
Who colors her hair,
We give this green dye—
No, she wouldn't dare!

To Phyllis Cournoyer,

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the Senior Class of 1966, being of unsound mind and questionable physical condition, do hereby proclaim this to be our Last Will and Testament.

To Mr. Beaton we leave a golf cart to carry him to all points of our sprawling educational complex.

To Mr. Shaw we leave the promise that he will never have to face another class like ours.

To Mr. Roach we leave a pair of pliers for improved penny pinching for the Athletic Department.

To Mr. Chadwick we leave a library staff that will learn the Dewey Decimal numbers on the first try.

To Miss Donohue we leave a real live M.I.T. student.

To Miss Pronski we leave a super Bat typewriter which cannot be pounded to death by destructive students.

To Mr. White we leave positive locking combinations on all the upstairs lockers.

To Mr. Miles we leave a recording of Macbeth that doesn't skip.

To Miss Berthiaume we leave a tiger repellent kit for her Falcon.

To Mr. Faron we leave a super-session notebook which holds fifty percent more names and won't burn from the friction of fast writing.

To Miss Hack we leave a tape recording of the cheerful voices of her fifth period class.

To Mrs. McCarron we leave another home room as well behaved and anxious to please as this year's.

To Mr. Bourdeau we leave a lifetime supply of Soaky fun toys.

To Coach Matson we leave a gold inlaid fungo bat to hold during baseball games.

To Coach Kollios we leave Jim Bekier for two more seasons.

To Miss Harrington we leave a basketball team.

To our Bat janitors we leave the wish that their true identities never be revealed.

To the staff of our cafeteria we leave a Betty Crocker guide to good eating.

To our Science Department we leave a lifetime supply of polyunsaturated materials.

To Lois Fournier we leave the presidency of General Electric.

To Jane Gagliairdi we leave the wish that she won't be cast as an old lady the rest of her life.

To Joe Calarusso we leave the 1966 benevolence award.

To Ernie White we leave the handwriting diploma he never got.

To Barry Maynes we leave a heavy duty muzzle.

To Sue Thomas we leave a scaled-down partner for graduation exercises.

To Bill Wilkinson and Terry Cobb we leave an all-expense paid trip to the mysterious Orient.

To Christine Woll we leave something to be in opposition to for the rest of her life.

To Dave Kendrick we leave the position of head mad scientist at Worcester Tech.

To Dave Gibbs we leave a pocket computer to compute his up-to-the-minute grades in college.

To the football team we leave the beauty of Windle field on a sunny August morning.

To the track team we leave an oxygen tent to revive the exhausted athletes after a rugged practice.

To the golf team we leave a way to disguise Paul Harney as a high school student.

To next year's Problems of Democracy class we leave all the witty sayings and captions in the textbooks they're not supposed to write in.

To next year's Reflector staff we leave the assurance that no one is shot for missing a deadline.

To next year's Senior Class we leave the chance to achieve the greatness of our class.

To the incoming Freshman Class we leave a maze of corridors and room numbers.

And, in all sincerity, we leave Wayne Sclar the best wishes of everyone in the class.

Signed, witnessed, and delivered by

Clyde Glink

CLASS PROPHECY

Later that day I flew to Boston to see an old buddy, Roger Picard, now an aspiring statesman at Beacon Hill. Roger, busy executive but still friend of the common people, was promoting the passage of a bill for the formation of the three-day school week. Roger has been actively supporting this bill ever since his boyhood days at Millbury Memorial High School.

THE INTERDEPENDENCE OF THE FOLLOWER AND THE LEADER

Any organization consists of two main groups. First, there are the leaders, who are basically planners, arranging the strategy for developing and fulfilling the aims of the organization. The second group, the followers, carries out the plans of the leaders, in this way bringing these ideas to life. For too long, followers and leaders have been considered two, separate, distinct groups, connected in no way. When someone speaks of an enlisted man and an officer in the armed services, two totally different types of people come to mind. Similarly, the management and blue-collar sections of an industrial concern are thought of as two different social and economic groups. Although the functions of followers and leaders are distinct, they both deal with the welfare of the organization which they compose. In reality, followers and leaders are dependent upon each other.

Let us first consider the dependence of the follower upon the leader. A group of men may have good intentions and wonderful ideals, but if these men have no one to direct their actions, nothing will be accomplished. Such was the case during the Revolutionary War. In the South a group of small farm planters wanted to help the colonies fight for independence. Not experienced in welfare, these farmers continued dreaming of freedom, but did nothing to aid the cause. In 1780 Francis Marion, a former Indian fighter, organized a cavalry troop in South Carolina. Marion taught the farmers about guerrilla warfare, and together they broke through British communication lines and captured scouting parties. He was an example of how men needed a leader; without him, their dreams might never have become realities.

In the case of Francis Marion, a good leader was found. However, sometimes sincere people do not succeed because they do not have good leaders. The Ku Klux Klan was an example of this. This organization was formed to maintain "white supremacy" and oppose Reconstruction policies at the end of the Civil War. Although the ideas of the Klan were not good, the people involved firmly believed that they were right in their convictions. Originally, the Klan had no intention of resorting to violence, but their original plan was altered greatly. Local leaders who were extremely fanatical in their beliefs turned their followers into murderers by having them resort to lynchings. Perhaps the Ku Klux Klan might never have accomplished anything, but if the members had chosen better leaders, they would never have deteriorated to such a low state. It is evident that followers must have leaders, but the choice of who is to lead is very important too.

Let us now take a look at the leader and his dependence upon the follower. Good followers are essential to any organization. During the 1960 presidential campaign the Democratic candidate, John F. Kennedy, acting on a suggestion of then Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey and Rep. Henry S. Reuss, announced that if elected, he planned to recruit American youth as ambassadors of peace to foreign countries. In March, 1961, President Kennedy established the Peace Corps, and this group has earned the respect and gratitude of the people and governments of the participating countries. The youth of America answered the call, and the wonderful idea of a few leaders became a fruitful reality through their followers.

Sometimes good followers cannot be found. The case of Billy Mitchell is one where a potentially great leader could not find followers. Mitchell left college to join the United States Army during the Spanish American War. During World War I he rose to the rank of brigadier general and ably commanded the American expeditionary air force. After the war, while assistant chief of air service in the United States army, he advocated air power, arguing vehemently for a large independent air force. He urged the military potential of strategic bombing, airborne forces, and polar air routes. He created a national issue, when, to demonstrate the superiority of air power, he directed the sinking of six warships in prearranged tests. His outspoken attitude toward the neglect of the air service did not lead to the fulfillment of his proposals. Instead, his criticism led to his court martial and demotion to colonel. Mitchell resigned from the army and continued his criticism. However, not until the second World War were his ideas adopted. Developments in this war bore out many of his prophecies concerning the importance of the airplane. Perhaps if military leaders of Mitchell's time had been willing to listen and follow him, our aeronautical achievements would have been even greater.

After we have learned how followers and leaders are dependent upon one another, we must decide which group we will join. It seems that everyone wants to be a leader. Honor, esteem, recognition, challenge —these are all reasons why. But can all people be leaders? The answer to his question is yes. In each one of us is instilled at least some natural leadership ability. Perhaps we might become military leaders like Francis Marion, or political leaders such as the late President Kennedy. We must decide for ourselves in which fields we are best equipped for leadership, and when the time presents itself, we must step forward.

In the meantime, when we are not leaders, what are we to do? Ironically enough, as we are all leaders so are we all followers. When others are more capable than ourselves to be leaders, we must be willing to follow them. The problem is that just as it is hard for some to stand up and lead, it is hard for others to sit back and follow.

Here we stand—the followers and the leaders. As followers, we are being led by those who graduated before us. As leaders, we are to be examples to those behind us. We must be ready to face whatever situation might confront us, and we must be willing to accept one another, for it will be our working together harmoniously that will enable us to enjoy a smoothly functioning society.

THE ROLE OF THE WOMAN IN OUR TECHNOLOGICAL SOCIETY

Society has traditionally regarded women as the weaker sex: weaker physically, emotionally, and intellectually. Women themselves have accepted this idea, finding the simple statement, "But I'm only a woman," to be a very convenient excuse in many uncomfortable situations. Now while it is true that a woman would be no match for a man in a test of sheer physical strength, there is absolutely no basis for the assumption that she must also be weaker in every other area. In fact recent studies show that women are actually less susceptible to illness, psychologically more stable, and at least as intelligent as men.

The social differences between the sexes are relative to time and place. In some primitive societies today, for example, the woman provides the family with food, shelter, and protection; the man stays at home and cares for the children. As strange as this seems to us, these primitive people feel that man's gentle nature makes him perfectly suited for raising the family, while woman's natural aggressiveness and defensiveness suit her for the role of protectress.

Two hundred years ago, nursing was exclusively a male profession. It was thought that women were too fragile and delicate to assume the responsibilities of caring for the sick. Today the majority of nurses are women, and no one questions their ability.

In past generations the only clerks, stenographers, and bookkeepers were men. Today these occupations are dominated by women.

These are only a very few examples of areas in which society has altered its views about the capabilities of women. None of these changes occurred without considerable effort by women to prove that they are as able as men. Always the changes have been accepted with great reluctance; woman's fight for equal opportunity has been a long and tedious one.

Society points to the scarcity of outstanding women as proof that they are not as capable as men. But we have to bear in mind the fact that women have had to fight for every opportunity. In literature, for example, Mary Ann Evans had to use the pen name George Eliot because the public would not buy book written by a woman. The Bronte sisters faced the same situation. Yet today the works of these women are recognized as great achievements.

Women now enjoy limited acceptance in the scientific fields; this was not the case several decades ago. Although women were still considered less intelligent than men, Madame Curie became one of history's greatest scientists. In fact, Madame Curie is the only person ever to win Nobel prizes in two separate sciences. Even so, there is still strong prejudice against women in many fields. In a recent study of elementary school educators, for example, it was found that many unqualified men were being promoted to the position of principal while qualified women were passed over. They were being promoted only because they were men, and somebody thought that a man made a better principal than a woman. This in spite of the fact that, in elementary schools at least, studies show that women are frequently more effective as principals. There is also strong prejudice against women in the field of medicine. If you don't think so, just ask yourself this question: "How would I, or the people I know, feel about letting a woman doctor remove my gall bladder or perform open heart surgery on me?" Most people would register a few mild objections at the very least, regardless of the qualifications of the woman

Where women have been afforded equal opportunities (I mean complete equality without any prejudice), they have proved themselves more than equal to men. Our graduating class here tonight is a good example. There has been no discrimination against any student because of sex. So let us view some of the achievements of the members of our class. We have seven Horace Mann students—all girls; twenty-six honor students—twenty-one of them girls; eighteen National Honor Society members—thirteen of them girls. This year there were two nominees for the Rensselaer Medal—both girls. Of four students cited by the National Merit Foundation, three were girls. This is what women will do when given a chance.

Society has been granting women the privilege of active participation in more and more fields. In the not too distant future they will probably have complete acceptance. It's about time.

RESPONSIBLE NONCONFORMITY

In our society, though conformity is stressed in some areas, a great deal of attention has been focused recently on responsible nonconformity and the importance of the individual. This has come about for several reasons. Besides the obvious danger of loss of identity through excessive conformity, there is the serious threat of stagnation. Without deviation from the accepted pattern there can be no progress. Practically everyone agrees with this, but not too many have the courage to do something about it.

However, there are some striking examples of responsibility nonconformity in modern times. The Negroes who have organized civil rights marches and demonstrations are, in essence, rebelling against the accepted order. They refuse to conform to the age-old rule of white supremacy. Through their actions they have managed to influence greatly the status of the Negro and have brought him much closer to his final goal of racial equality and the "justice for all" which this country claims to have already. The peace marchers are another example. Instead of sitting at home grumbling about the state of affairs, they go out to try to influence public opinion in an orderly manner.

Besides this, responsible nonconformity can take other less publicized forms. A nonconformist is one who takes a stand other than that held by the majority, whether it is on a large or a small scale. Although it may not directly affect the nation as a whole it is still of great importance, because the nation is only what its people make it. When its people face up to their moral obligations despite the discomfort occasioned by going against the crowd, much of the problem of national apathy will be solved.

Throughout this speech, responsible nonconformity has been stressed, and for a very good reason. Nonconformity merely for the sake of attracting attention does not usually contribute to progress and often only succeeds in attracting the wrong kind of attention. Uncontrolled nonconformity can only lead to chaos. This kind of nonconformity is the type that ignores all laws, whether moral or man-made. The notorious Hell's Angels of California are well-known examples of irresponsible nonconformity.

In order to be responsible individuals we must have the training and education necessary to enable us to make decisions wisely. In most cases we get this training from parents and school. By the time we reach the secondary schools we should be ready to make some of our own decisions. In some schools, students are given the opportunity to actively participate in school government. Unfortunately, in other schools students graduate still accustomed to having most decisions made for them. Such a condition is certainly not the best to prepare young people for adult life.

Even when a person has the necessary education, he needs something more before he can become a real individual. He must have the courage to accept the ostracism often directed at anyone who dares to be different. Some find it more to their liking to follow blindly like a flock of sheep. However, we ought to remember that sheep are frequently led to slaughter.

EDUCATION — A KEY TO THE FUTURE

And I said to the man who stood at the gate of the year, "Give me a light that I may tread safely into the unknown!"
And he replied, "Go out into the darkness
and put thine hand into the hand of God.
That shall be to thee better than light
and safer than a known way."

M. L. Haskins

We are accustomed to say that the truth makes men free. It does nothing of the kind. It is the knowledge of the truth that creates freedom. "Ye shall know the truth and truth shall make you free." But where may we obtain this knowledge? For the past four years we have been exploring and learning about new and interesting fields. However, this alone does not give us wisdom. We have acquired a great deal of knowledge, but this alone is not necessarily vital energy. We must not mistake mere acquisition of knowledge for wisdom. Like food our knowledge must be digested and assimilated to become life or force. J. E. Dinger once stated that > the student who has to cram through a school or college course, who has made himself merely a receptacle for the teacher's thoughts and ideas, is not educated; he has not gained much. He is a reservoir, not a fountain. One retains, the other gives forth. Unless this knowledge is converted into wisdom, into faculty, it will become stagnant like still waters.

Therefore we must realize that beyond the formal classroom are various phases of our experiences which are fully as much a part of our education. These various experiences include family relationships, social relationships, spiritual training, recreation, and employment. Each of these phases of our lives seems to supplement the formal classroom education, giving it more meaning and practical use.

We may learn the importance of a democratic system of government in our history classes, but its principles are applied in the home. Through our family relationships we learn the importance of compromises, and of being able to express tactfully and intelligently our viewpoints. We learn to respect the authority of our parents, and we become aware of our duty to obey the rules and regulations they set forth. Such a family relationship is important to our educational development because it is preparing us for the day when we must be willing to compromise, capable of expressing our viewpoints, and aware of rules and regulations in society. These lessons cannot be sufficiently taught by a textbook alone—they must be applied in our daily lives if they are to serve a purpose.

Our social relationships go one step beyond our family relationships in that they give us experience with all types of people. In our contacts with adults, as well as other youths, we learn to respect others' opinions, and in return to have our own respected. We are advised by our parents and teachers to avoid those social temptations which are wrong or harmful to our lives. However, not until we are confronted with the actual situation do we finally judge and act for ourselves. Then, and only then, do we actually comprehend what we have been taught. We are young and curious people, living in an age of excitement and temptations. But like all youths of any century we are determined to find the answers to life for ourselves. In some cases the answers may lead to new and refreshing ideas; sometimes the answers are blind alleys with tragic endings. But because we find the answers through our own experiences, the lessons have a great deal more meaning.

And beyond family and social relationships we have our spiritual training, which has governed many of our lives since childhood. The importance of spiritual training can best be summarized by Roger Babson, who stated,

> The safety of your sons and daughters as they go out on the streets this very night is due to the influence of the preachers rather than to policemen and lawmakers. The safety of our nation including all groups, depends on Christian education.

Spiritual training serves as a foundation from which a young person can develop moral standards. These standards, taken into the home and the school, can be made to flourish, and eventually will act as a guideline between right and wrong.

However, the education we have received during the past four years consists of more than just social, family, and spiritual experiences. It also includes recreation and employment. We cannot find a formula for patience in our math books, nor can we find a standard procedure in our business courses for reliability. We acquire these virtues from experience. And the wisdom that we have gained from recreational and employment experiences will not be forgotten as we leave this school tonight. Rather we shall find that every day we are confronted with situations which require us to draw upon our past experiences. We may forget some of the material our textbooks have presented to us, but we shall never forget the lessons taught to us by experience.

Therefore, one can see that education is much more than that received in the classroom. It is a vast accumulation of wisdom which can only be obtained by oneself. As John Ruskin stated, "Education does not mean teaching people what they do not know. It means teaching them to behave as they do not behave. It is a painful, continual and difficult work to be done by kindness, by watching, by warning, by precept and by praise, but above all by example: For as a poet once said:

> I can soon learn how to do it if you'll > let me see it done.
> I can watch your hands in action, but > your tongue too fast may run.
> And the lectures you deliver may be > very wise and true;
> But I'd rather get my lesson by observing
> what you do."
